DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-25, drawn to a hybrid contact lens with a substantially rigid portion and a substantially flexible portion, classified in class 351, subclass 160R.
- II. Claims 26-43, drawn to a method of prescribing a hybrid contact lens by providing a contact lens that approximates an eye shape, classified in class 351, subclass 177.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in a materially different process of using the product. Specifically, the hybrid contact lenses can be used in a process that does not include measuring a registration disparity or a process that does not include determining the direction of a light ray exiting the contact lens.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2873

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for any one group is not required for any other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: Group Ia, claims 1-11, which disclose a hybrid contact lens comprising substantially rigid and flexible portions which are coupled at a junction and form an angled surface with at least two intersecting planes; Group Ib, claims 12-17, which disclose a hybrid contact lens comprising substantially rigid and flexible portions wherein the curvature of the flexible portion is greater than the curvature of the rigid portion; Group Ic, claims 18-25, which disclose a hybrid contact lens comprising substantially rigid and flexible portions including a surface treatment that creates a substantially uniform tear film when the lens is positioned on the eye; Group IIa, claims 26-39, discloses a method of prescribing a hybrid contact lens by measuring the registration disparity and the aberration of the contact lens and the eye; Group IIb, claims 40-43, discloses a method of prescribing a hybrid contact lens by determining a direction of a light ray exiting the contact lens; .

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 2873

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jessica T Stultz whose telephone number is (571) 272-2339. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8-4:30.
